Imagine living in an elevated estate above the Mission Beach Village - Where you can walk down to the local village via a concrete pathway for a coffee, a wine, lunch or dinner - any time of the day. Ocean views as you descend down the concrete walkway towards the Village....

Purtaboi Estate is for those who want that north Mission Beach location, a nice big block of land and piece of mind that a building covenant will ensure there's quality homes in your area. Something above sea level, that's level and easy to build on and catches all those sea breezes.

There are a number of homes currently under construction here and plenty of great positioned blocks still to choose from.

View the map for all the lot and sizes available - We can email you all the details including the building covenants so just ask!
